Helping Heritage
Organisations Prosper

Brighter Day conservation projects announced

AIM Arts Scholars Brighter Day grants were developed to help museums recover from the ongoing effects of the Covid pandemic, with a focus on small museums and others that have found it difficult to access other support.

It has been great to see the range of initiatives that we have been able to help, thanks to the funding support provided by the Worshipful Company of Arts Scholars Charitable Trust. Even with a tight turnaround, there was strong interest with applications received from across the UK, narrowing down to 10 successful organisations.

Latest wave of ALVA (Association of Leading Visitor Attractions) visitor sentiment research

ALVA has been conducting sentiment research with attractions visitors since April 2020 and the latest wave, from February 2022, shows real confidence on the part of the public to revisit attractions of all types. But there's a spectrum of preference and an appetite for attractions to retain some Covid-safe measures.

News In Brief

Historic England announces grants to uncover the nation's hidden working class histories

The grants will fund community-led and people-focused projects that aim to further the nation's collective understanding of the past. The focus will be on heritage that links people to overlooked historic places, with a particular interest in recognising and celebrating working class histories. Find out more>>
